Description: Pinot Grigio derives from a mutation of Pinot Nero, of which, except the color, preserves almost all features. The first Pinot in Italy seems to have come from Burgundy.

Straw-yellow, almost coppery color, generally medium perfumed but considerably complex aromas. Noble with a strong texture and well-rounded, sometimes it is slightly sweet, but always very fresh.

Food pairings: Ideal wine for important meals, perfect with fish-based appetizers, Radicchio Rosso di Treviso, risotto, white meats and fish.

Serving Temperature: 9-11°C
